This Is Morton High School;

It Meets the Needs of All

Various Activities At Morton

SOCIAL EVENTS PROVIDE Morton students with a chance for relaxation and rest from schoolwork. The Winter Formal and the other dances presented at Morton offered enjoyment to those who attended. ACTIVITIES—PAGE 6.

CLUBS AND ORGANIZATIONS increase knowledge and give students an opportunity to display their abilities. The Math Club delves into difficult mathematical problems. Ray Arvay, Vernon Arnold, and Gail Schlesinger work with the slide rule. CLUBS—PAGE 38.

CLASSES ARE OF PRIME IMPORTANCE at MHS. A variety of subjects is offered at Morton to prepare students for any field or occupation. Allen Zwinklis gallantly carries Verna Mae Getzlaff's and Judy McAleer's books to the next class. CLASSES—PAGE 22.

Serves Interests Of Everyone

SPORTS INSTILL A FEELING of competition and good sportsmanship. Steve Paquin, Morton scatback, scurries past the last Hammond Tech defender as he races on another long touchdown run. His teammates move up to aid the fleet halfback. SPORTS—PAGE 66.

As Morton students you have discovered that MHS offers something for everyone. The abilities of every student have found outlets here.

As Morton has grown as a high school, it has further developed its curriculum and facilities to meet the growing needs. Along with this development, school activities have increased and school spirit has become stronger.

Morton has recognized the need of presenting all the necessary requirements for a well-rounded high school career. At the same time, the need for each student to excel in a particular field is also recognized. Participating in activities and developing responsibility are encouraged at Morton.

Through this book we are presenting those opportunities Morton offers. In these pages you will find that "there is something for everyone at MHS."

ADVERTISING IS a major method of financing the publication of the TOP HAT. Jim Bline, ad salesman, explains the types of ads sold for the yearbook to a local businessman. PATRONS—PAGE 136.

PEOPLE ARE a school's most important asset, and Morton is no exception to this rule. Students, teachers, and administrators together make MHS a highly-regarded Hammond school. PEOPLE—PAGE 90.

Variety Of Activities Provides

STUDENTS EMPLOY the facilities of the Student Center on their lunch hours or during a free hour. Here they may study, read magazines, play games, and dance.

A DANCE is held for the student body on most Friday nights by some Morton club or organization. The winners of the craziest sock Valentine dance are shown with their prize-winning socks: Mari'yn Swallick, Sue Walsh, Jill Harris, Marilyn Plesek, Ramona Crowe, Susan Britt, and Judy Diehl.

THE TROPHY CASE is the scene of many bake sales that are held by clubs for the purpose of raising funds. Licking her fingers, a student displays her enjoyment over the goodies being sold by the club.

Outlets For Students' Abilities

WINNER in the Senior Division with the entry entitled "Temperature and the Chick Embryo" was Bruce Byrne shown here at work with the many instruments employed in his science project.

Through the entire school year the students and faculty plan and participate in various activities centered around the school. Science programs encourage student initiative in many fields of biological development. Each year Morton produces many winners in these fields. The musical abilities of the students have many outlets through the various programs sponsored by the music department under the direction of Miss Miller.

THE WINNER of the "Dress Right" slogan contest, Cherie Shannon, poses before the new hall mirror presented to MHS by a local organization stressing correct dress.

THE MUSIC DEPARTMENT presented the "Americana" on March 23. The participants in the program are—SEATED: A. Punnea, M. Roach, C. Barnes, R. Muffet, V. Boelter, N. Hoffman, K. Marcinkovich, M. Evans, J. Harrison, V. Getzlaff, P. Smock; STANDING: N. Holley, T. Hupp, L. Bell, H. A. Gentry, J. Hawkins, J. Salka, T. Bielby, S. Paquin, C. Laud, S. Mertens, S. Tuttle, D. Whitehouse, D. Mace.

THE USUAL PROCEDURE in the past has been for the newly elected president to swear in his chosen cabinet; accordingly President David Teegarden performs this duty as his officers take the oath of office. The 1960-'61 cabinet includes: Vice-President Larry Overman, Recorder Judy Bogan, Chief Justice Steve Belson, Secretary of the Treasury Mabel Carrico, Secretary of Safety George Berbeco, Secretary of Assemblies Joan Sherby, Secretary of the Student Center Richard Pollard, and Secretary of Social Affairs Alice Takas.

Students Practice Government

The government here at Morton is patterned extensively after the national government. The Student Association has its own senators and representatives as well as an efficient constitution.

Also contained in our governing body is a student court with a Chief Justice, usually a senior, and one justice from every class. This court hears cases before and after school and decides the punishment. It has heard cases concerning set lockers, eating in the halls, disturbing classes, and jaywalking. The Morton student court has proved to be a worthwhile asset to the entire school system of Hammond.

Voting on amendments to improve the efficiency of our procedures, revising the constitution to bring it up-to-date, and taking part in the elections with campaigns and inaugurations are all a part of the governors' lives during the school year.

Practicing governmental operations now will instill a better sense of duty as well as understanding of our American government. It is hoped that Morton students will gain the necessary experience to become better citizens and that they will be able to cope with the problems and situations that will face them in the world of tomorrow.

LOYAL GOVERNOR BOOSTERS and alumni attended the traditional Inaugural Ball given in honor of our elected Association officers.

To obtain a firm basis for the functioning of the various school activities of the year, students are chosen to attend numerous summer institutes which include Cheerleading Camp, Journalism Institute, Boys' and Girls' State, Speech Institute, United Nations Conference, and the World Affairs Institute.

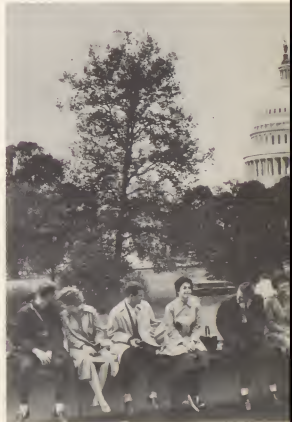

Each year a number of juniors and seniors visit the nation's Capital. This experience is educating as well as enjoyable for the students participating in this annual fall trip to Washington, D. C.

Students Become Travelers

AFTER A RECENT TRIP to Franklin College for a journalism conference, these students discuss the major points brought out by the speakers. The participants in the conference were Allen Zwinklis, Gary Werskey, Rosanne Smith, Diane Wieland, Sue Dorman, Diane Kominiak, Joe Harrison, Jim Burdeau, and Tim Reid.

A GROUP of Morton students are resting their weary feet after a long educational trip through the Capitol Building.

Thrills, chills, and unbridled humor were the elements that were so skillfully blended by writer Raymond Dumkey in this year's fall play, "The House Nobody Lived In." Virgil Keech (Eddie Baker) came into possession of an old and deserted mansion called Kentforth. This gave him the authority to rent the mansion to Mrs. Fortesque (Cindy Kackley), who has been traveling all over the country looking for a house that is haunted! However, before she can complete the transaction, Virgil Keech is discovered with a bullet wound in his side. Who is the man who poses as a Police Inspector and turns out to be an imposter? Are the ghosts at Kentforth really authentic? Who murdered Virgil Keech? These are only a few of the puzzling questions that baffled the audience as the Morton presentation of the play "The House Nobody Lived In" developed on the evenings of November 17 and 18, 1960.

REVEALING HIS HIDING PLACE where he had been spying on the group, Inspector Wilson (Byron Gregory) surprises Dolly Keen (Marilyn Swalick), Anastasia (Sharon Friend), and Judy Keech (Gail Piekarczyk).

"STAY AWAY from my daughter, Sherman Norton," yells Mr. Keech (Eddie Baker), threatening Sherman (Lanny Barnett) while Judy Keech (Gail Piekarczyk) looks on with concern for her fiancé.

RUNNING FROM THE ROOM, Barrow (Joe Harrison) reveals himself as the murderer, while Jinx (Sue Walsh), Sherman Norton (Lanny Barnett), Judy Keech (Gail Piekarczyk), and Inspector Holmes (Frank Yates) watch him flee.

"Ghosts In This Day and Age!"

AFTER DISCUSSING a difficult math problem, George (Joe Harrison) and Emily (Ruth Luddy), perched at their bedroom windows, talk about the beautiful summer night.

"Our Town" Portrayed Vividly

The absence of scenery always demands the highest degree of acting attainable by the players. Therefore, when Thornton Wilder's play Our Town was presented by the seniors, the pantomiming skills of the entire cast were developed. On April 27 and 28, the three-act play was presented under the guidance of Mrs. Martha Dean, the director. With its stirring action, the presentation commanded the attention of the audience.

THE SMALL CONGREGATION of Grover's Corners look on joyfully as Emily (Kathy Thompson) and George (Joe Harrison) turn to walk down the aisle of the church after the minister, portrayed by the stage manager (Ted Hupp), has pronounced the young couple man and wife.

STOPPING TO CHAT for a moment, Joe Crowell (Bob Golec) hands the morning paper to Dr. Gibbs (Allen Zwicklis), who is just coming back from a late sick call in Polish Town. Mrs. Gibbs (Susan Walsh) and Mrs. Webb (Marilynn Swalick) busily prepare breakfast for their families.

Formals Bring Enjoyable And

As the last big social event of the year sponsored by the senior class, the 1961 Winter Formal, Rhapsody in Blue proved a delightful occasion for the students gathering at St. Michael's Hall.

The glistening snow, sparkling trees, and wintry wishing wells made up the colorful snow scene at the entrance to the dance. A round reflecting mirror cast off a bright array of colors from the spot lights to provide a dreamy atmosphere for everyone. The memory of this wonderful night will exist in the minds of all who attended for years to come.

THE EXQUISITE SNOW SCENE of trees, snow, and ponds drew many admirers. mirrors.

THE DANCERS DELIGHT in a chance to show off the latest steps and to see their close friends with their dates.

THE BAND CHOSEN for the 1961 Winter Formal provided a wonderful atmosphere for the students, who danced, talked, or just observed.

Relaxing Evenings For Students

THE WEARY DANCERS take time out to talk about their various activities of the evening as well as of the following day.

"Deep Sea Dreamland" presented by the junior class as the 1961 Junior-Senior Prom, was enjoyed by both students and attending faculty. St. Michael's Hall was rented for this annual occasion which was held on the spring night of May 19. Students anxiously prepared for their dates by picking up the flowers, washing the car, and securing the necessary finances.

The committees performed their duties with delight as they decorated the hall, arranged for Hal Morris' band, and supplied the dainty cookies and delicious punch.

Excitement filled the air as the students began to leave for the After-Prom Party.

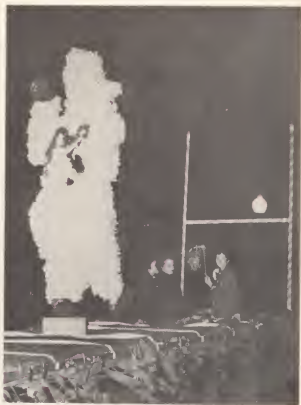

THE ATMOSPHERE SEEMS BRIGHTER as the band begins to play smooth music and the dates go on the dance floor.

AS THEY LEAVE St. Michael's Hall for the After-Prom Party or a near-by restaurant, a couple reminisce over the memories of the still-young night.

Colorful Homecoming Presented

QUEEN JACKIE SVABIK and her court reminisce over the night's happenings while they stand waiting for the notes of the first dance to officially announce the beginning of the festivities.

PROUDLY ESCORTED by three senior girls, the 1960 senior float, represented by a huge pig carrying a football, led our team to victory on this important night.

ENTHUSIASM AND HARD WORK produced the uniquely decorated cars appearing in the parade to the home field.

Homecoming night was a triumphant occasion for the Governors. The first big event of the evening was a long and colorful parade of beautifully decorated cars and floats which were the product of many hours of hard work and planning.

Main feature of the evening was the half-time ceremonies at the game. Master of Ceremonies Gary Werskey introduced the candidates and then announced Jackie Svabik as the queen. The Morton band and twirlers displayed their talents by depicting, in original formations, the professions of alumni.

Our victory at the game and the coronation of the queen were celebrated afterward at the Homecoming Dance. It was a pleasant finish for a most memorable evening.

Stall Adds To Sectional Thrills

Morton once again opposed Hammond Clark High School in the East Chicago sectional tournament as they have done many times in the past.

The team's new stall technique got wide acclaim from the critics, boosters, and newspapers. With the score 8-0 against them at the half, the Governors made a comeback which ended with the final score at 27-26 in Clark's favor. The "Mighty Governors" fought hard as they pushed the score up to meet the challenge of the highly-ranked Clark Pioneers.

Morton boosters cheered the team gallantly. The cheerleaders; Steve Beison, the Big Governor; and Bobby Hays, the Little Governor, led the yells of the MHS backers. The cheering section was formed into the shape of a top hat, the symbol of the Morton Governors. Sportsmanship and fine play utilized by the team and the spirit of the students in the stands made the sectional game successful for MHS.

BEFORE LEAVING for the Washington Cym, the cheerleaders presented a rousing pep session to cheer the team to victory against their opponents from Clark.

THE STUDENTS ANXIOUSLY WATCH the Governors as they begin their famous stall tactics which brought the score to 27-26 in the final seconds of the game.

WHILE SITTING EAGERLY awaiting the first moments of the game, the students glance excitedly at the door through which the team will be entering the gym.

Faculty And Students Manage

DURING BROTHERHOOD WEEK Principal A. W. Clark planned an assembly which included foreign-born students of Morton High School who gave their opinions of America. The participating students are—SITTING: Maria Kunz, Heike Klinger, Dorothee Bell, Bridget Cerneviski, George Smundin, Emir Utus, and Moderator Dave Teegarden; STANDING: Lirda Munro, Jeanne Rose, Aurelia Gincauskas, Dave Furness, Patrick Hill, Ken Lessie, Larry Lessie, Sherrel Thomas, and Pat Cole.

Each Friday morning for a period of thirty-five minutes an educational program is presented to the student body. Besides filling education needs, A. W. Clark, Morton principal, looks to quench the students' recreational needs. These assemblies provide a refreshing lift after four days of school work.

The programs include such topics as careers, grooming, health, holiday observances, and pep sessions. Often guest speakers visit Morton and talk in the assembly on timely topics. Panels by 5 students are given on current questions. At Easter, Christmas, and Thanksgiving there are special programs.

ON OCTOBER 21 an assembly was given in honor of Mr. Lee L. Caldwell, late superintendent of Hammond Schools. Mr. A. W. Clark, MHS principal, and Mrs. Lee L. Caldwell are shown leaving the assembly program.

HUMOROUS SKITS accompany the pep session assemblies given by cheerleaders, students, and faculty to honor the sports participants. On occasions the students and teachers represent the team players in enjoyable, delightful presentations.

And Direct Assembly Programs

THE CHOIR, directed by Barbara Miller, gave the finishing touches to the Easter Assembly on March 30. Reverend David Chesebrough, from the Baptist Fellowship Church, was the speaker, Dave Teegarden was moderator.

THE GALATI DANCERS, Bob and Carlyn Calati, performed folk dances from foreign countries throughout the world for the Morton student body in an assembly on March 10.

UNDER THE DIRECTION of Ellis Hays, speech coach, and his assistant Larry Ruff, the speech department presented an interesting and enjoyable assembly. Included in the program were Mike Boardman with a humorous interpretation, Aurelia Gincauskas with her dramatic reading, and Diane Wieland with a moving musical solo.

Will-Be's Triumphant In Game

THE CROWD OF SENIORS anxiously looks at a Has-Been player as he sets at the free throw line. The cheers are led by Marilyn Swalick, one of the senior cheerleaders.

The gym was filling to its capacity as the Governors took their places in the bleachers. The Will-Be's secured the first basket as the game began. For the first time in the history of Morton the seniors were the underdogs. This was due to the fact that practically all the seniors had been eliminated from the team early in the season.

The annual Has-Been—Will-Be game held much excitement for the faculty as well as for the students. The seniors or Has-Beens put on a surprising fight as the varsity team, coached by Coach DePeugh, fought to keep the score ahead. The participants played hard and fair as the minutes wore on.

The final seconds of the game showed the teams to have terrific stamina, especially the Has-Beens, considering their lack of practice and experience. The game ended with the Will-Be's ahead by a few points.

THE BOYS JUMP HIGH as the referee, Mr. Concialdi, throws the basketball into play. The team members look on with concern for the outcome of this play in the annual Has-Been, Will-Be Game.

AT THE HALF the underclassmen presented a skit involving the representation of the players on both teams. Flo Klem and Jody Eichelberger scream with joy as a Has-Been, represented by Bridget Cernevski, limps on the floor to play for the Has-Been team.

Morton Adopts Korean Orphan

KIM CHUN YUNG, South Korean orphan, has been adopted by the Morton students under the auspices of the senior class. Roy B. Moorehead, social studies teacher, has directed the class on its project.

Having seen an article about the adoption of an orphan under the Foster Parents' Plan, Roy B. Moorehead, social studies teacher, read the article to his economics classes. The following day a group of his students came to him with the idea of adopting an orphan for the school. Under the direction of Mr. Moorehead, enough money was collected from the student body and the sum was sent, to the organization. Soon a complete history of Kim Chung Yung, Korean orphan, along with a recent picture, arrived.

Kim Chung Yung is now living in a Korean orphanage along with his younger brother. His father left the family when Kim was very young. His mother died shortly after this. Kim reached his fifth birthday on February 15.

The feeling of brotherhood lives in the actions of the students and faculty at Morton as they do their part in this gratifying undertaking.

THE SENIOR DIRECTORS of the orphan program, Duane Hicks, Karen Clark, and Sharon Brown, proudly show the picture of the newly adopted orphan, Kim Chun Yung.

Seniors Have Eventful Year,

DURING SENIOR WEEK faculty and underclassmen meet seniors who are dressed for various occasions. Sandra Torok portrays the day for shades or sunglasses; Duane Hicks depicts bermuda day; Diane Wieland recalls the memories of kindergarten; Camille Viland portrays the well-dressed senior.

INCLUDED in the Student-Faculty entertainment for the Senior Banquet on May 25 was the prophecy reading by Lucian Heacox.

THE SENIOR ASSEMBLY was centered around the awards presented to the graduating seniors. The seniors chosen as most valuable players in sports were Dennis Brant, wrestling; Dick Weiss, football; and John Bailor, cross-country.

Face Future With Strong Hope

THE "CLASS OF '61 observes senior cord day by wearing the chosen colors of charcoal and baby blue. Rosanne Smith looks on as Steve Beison signs Natalie Holley's skirt.

Through the entire four years of struggle and extensive study put forth by this year's graduating seniors, they have felt assured that graduation would be a happy occasion. Now when the time has arrived, the "old pros" are worried about having to face the future. All of the memories of four years begin to mean more to the graduates than just good and bad times. These anxious thoughts make the seniors realize that the work of these four years must serve as a basis for each of their futures.

The social season for the seniors included the Senior Banquet, planned by the Senior Executive Board; the Senior Play, Our Town, which recalled memories of the Junior year American Literature class; and the Prom, with its unforgettable memory of the last social event of the seniors' high school days. The memories of these events will help to ease the pain of leaving the security, guidance, and excitement of high school life. The future now belongs to the graduates—to shape as they may.

LOOKING TOWARD THE FUTURE the seniors are confident with the hope of tomorrow inspiring them. Janice Bright and Jim Burdeau face the unknown with their love of school, country, and God.

Classes

Classes For All Offered at MHS

The elements that make up an education come from many sources. Knowledge is found not only in books but comes from practical experience in the classroom. Morton plays an important part in making this education available to everyone at MHS.

Classes are designed for the education of the individual. The special talents, abilities, and needs of each student are recognized and these qualities are given special attention through skillful counseling and careful planning.

Preparing young minds to meet the demands of the future is one of the challenges encountered in the classroom today. The well-planned curriculum includes the subjects necessary for a good educational background, as well as elective courses to complete the high-school education. Students may take subjects that appeal to them while receiving a well-balanced education. As Morton has grown, the curriculum has been adjusted and expanded so that it continues to offer a complete course of study for all MHS students.

Opportunities Arise Each Day

STUDENTS who have first and seventh hours home study are allowed to use the facilities of the Student Center for chatting, eating candy, listening to records, or finishing homework. The less fortunate students sleepily trod on to appear in class at eight-thirty in the morning. Their only hope appears in the afternoon when the anticipated lunch hours roll around.

Eight o'clock in the morning finds Morton students walking or riding to school in cars or buses. At 8:15 the building starts buzzing with activity as students rush to the bookstore to buy last minute items, to the library to return overdue books, and to the office to have excuses signed before starting to first hour class.

DUE TO OVERCROWDING in the study halls, some students are assigned to an honor study hall. This study hall is not monitored by a teacher, and the students, themselves, have the responsibility of maintaining order.

THE LIBRARY is at the service of students wishing to use books for pleasure reading, reports, or references. Stanley Elgas, librarian, checks out a book for Glenn Sargent, as Natalie Holley and Jim Hiduke await their turns.

Math Aids Thinking, Reasoning

Future America needs mathematicians; therefore, our school tries to offer as much math as it possibly can. Morton's math courses include algebra, plane geometry, advanced algebra, senior math, commercial math, and general math.

Senior Math is the name given to a new course for seniors. It includes solid geometry, trigonometry, analytic geometry, and calculus. Algebra is a prerequisite for advanced algebra. Both courses of geometry work with figures either in a single plane or numerous planes. General math and commercial math are taken by students who are on the general course. Therefore, Morton offers various math courses to serve the needs of all the students.

THE CONSTRUCTION of a perpendicular line in a triangle, as done by Dave Teegarden, is a necessary step in certain trigonometric problems. Joann Teegarden, Miss Marjorie Groves, and Ed Norris are observing Dave as he explains his strategy in the solution of the problem.

THIS ALGEBRA PROBLEM seems to have stumped John McCreary but apparently not Willy Ruff by the smile on his face. Mrs. Lena Bonebrake checks Willy's work and approves.

HOME-MADE LANTERN SLIDES make geometry easy and fun. Mrs. Nancy Sautsb shows Jerry Smith, Gloria Osmon, and John Spray the various auxiliary lines needed in the proof of a Geometry theorem.

Mastery Comes With Study

A NEW ORGANIZATION appeared in the second semester—a Literature club. Although extracurricular, the club has an academic standing. Sponsored by Mrs. Norma Kelly, the students read and discuss Russian novels. Fred Schroeder, Dana Stewart, Earl Creekmore, Pat Sherman, and Ray Price give a panel on the novel CRIME AND PUNISHMENT by Dostoyevski.

Appreciation of English comes only with our full understanding of the language. Through the years of high school English, students come in contact with the age-old spelling demons, Silas Marner, Julius Caesar, Hamlet, sentence diagrams, and various American and English poets and novelists.

Grammar and vocabulary are stressed in every course of English.

Three and one half years of English are required for graduation, but there is an elective, English Literature, offered to those who are interested in a history of literature other than American Literature. Seniors alone can take this informative course.

A PANEL on the Electoral College is presented in Speech V by Judy Bogan, Tom Oberle, Frank Yates, and Jill Harris. Impromptu speeches, dialogues, and prepared speeches are only a few of the many activities taught by Mr. Ellis Hays.

COMPOSITION VII develops content and mechanical accuracy in the writing of the students. Mrs. Harriette Moylan instructs the students in the various phases of this English subject. Spelling and book reports are included in the course.

Of Our Complex Language

Speech is also offered to increase one's ability to speak before a group of people. Numerous speeches, panel discussions, and assemblies are given by speech students.

Students with ability in writing who wish to further their English skills may take Journalism in which they develop clear, concise, and accurate writing techniques.

English is one of the most important courses in high school because of the training it gives us for daily communication with each other. To understand it and to master it is a great achievement of which to be very proud and happy.

JIM PALMER RECEIVES review sheets on Hamlet from Mrs. Norma Kelly in an English Literature VII class. Poetry, essays, plays, and novels are all included in the course of study of this elective subject for high school seniors.

JOURNALISM I CLASS prepares future TOP HAT and MORTONITE members by providing experience in news writing. Under the guidance of Mrs. Helen Stock the students learn to write headlines and copy, to interpret material as to whether or not it is propaganda, and to evaluate various newspapers. Here Mrs. Stock supervises as these students are writing feature stories.

AS MISS VIRGINIA DAVIS looks on, Beryl Fry gives an oral presentation before an English III class. This course instructs students in appreciation of literature, comprehensive writing, and grammar techniques.

MR. WALTER RUFF'S sly grin and famous red tie are familiar signs of a Latin quiz. As he looks on, Janet Kiger works steadily, hoping to finish and to do well.

Foreign Languages Acquaint

QUE ES ? According to Tom it is an Aztec Indian mask which he acquired on a trip to Mexico last summer. Judy Mestrovich, Al Brosman, Tom Phares, Mrs. Tsatsos, and Sue Dorman all seem to be very interested in this curious object.

THIS MAP seems to be the center of attraction for Bridget Cerneviski, Lucian Hescox, and Frances Pecelin. Mr. Ogilvie helps these German III students to find the location of various German cities.

"NOW LISTEN CAREFULLY!" Judy Howard says to Dick Weiss as she speaks to him in French, but he still can't understand. French teacher Mrs. Janet Sachs encourages Dick in his efforts.

Two new languages, French and Russian, were offered at Morton this year. Both were open to all students wishing to further their knowledge and education in foreign languages.

Russian was offered as a solid, and the students so desiring could obtain high school credit for this course by meeting certain standards. This class met after school and during evenings.

Reports, conversations, and translations were on the course of study for French classes. First-year fundamentals and rules were studied and learned by the students.

Latin, Spanish, and German are still popular among the students taking an academic course. Latin pupils learn of the Roman Empire and Julius Caesar. In Spanish, fundamentals of this language are taught. Learning to speak German properly is one of the main objectives in German class.

Thus high school students are well-informed of many different languages and ways of life in various countries.

Students With Countries

UNDERSTANDING FRENCH CULTURE and French history is as important as learning the language. Furthering their knowledge, these students give various reports on French art, religion, war, fine arts, and history. With a background of France it is easier to understand this complex language. Here Sue Reynolds gives her reports as Mrs. Janet Sachs looks on.

"PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT," so they say. Striving to perfect their language skills, German students use the tape recorder to hear their own pronunciation of words and also their own mistakes. Joel Mixon and Bruce Byrne look on as Jim Hopp speaks first into the microphone. Mr. Ogilvie watches with approval.

Morton High Students Explore

REMOVING IMPURITIES FROM WATER by distillation are Diane Tomlinson, Jay Hemingway, Mary Cay Matovina, Mrs. Mary Petterson, and Len Bissa. Various experiments and demonstrations are done in the chemistry classes. This is a class in which anything can and does happen when the students begin working on their experiments and projects.

Science is rapidly becoming one of the most important courses in all senior high schools. At Morton the different science courses include biology, physics, chemistry, health and safety, and zoology. Zoology was offered for the first time last fall.

Chemistry, the study of chemicals and elements, is an interesting subject to all students curious about the composition of substances.

Physics is offered to juniors and seniors with certain mathematical requirements. The course is a study of mechanics, light, sound, and radioactivity.

Biology is the study of all phases of life. It is usually taken by sophomores as their required year of science.

Health and Safety is a semester course required of all high school students. It is a brief course in the study of the body organs, and it aids in understanding the care needed by the human body.

Zoology is a supplementary to biology. It is a science which emphasizes the animal kingdom.

All those interested can find some course to further their scientific knowledge.

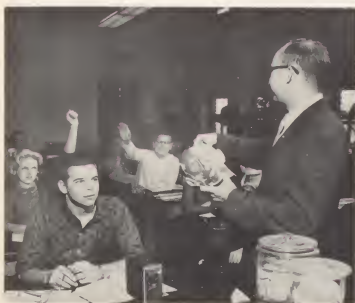

THAT THE MOMENTUM of a steel ball is the same as that of a balsam ball is proved in a demonstration by Bill Witwer, Mr. Bill Came, Ken Kessler, and Ed Norris. Heat, Machines, and force vectors are studied in the Physics course.

The Mysteries of the Sciences

GIVING A DEMONSTRATION of the parts of flowers to his biology class is Mr. Julian Rasmussen. Susan Knaver, Rosalee Kuhn, and Carol Polochak look on with interest as they dissect their own flowers. The rest of the class watch closely to make sure they are performing the dissecting properly.

WITH THE AID of Hector, the well-known mannequin of the science department, Mr. Spitzer's Health and Safety class identifies various parts of the head. Marie Melton and Jim Stahura raise their hands to answer.

ZOOLOGY IS THE STUDY of the animal kingdom. Stimulating muscles with electrodes are Kim Miller, Paul Jackson, and Ray Hawkins. Mr. Julian Rasmussen and the students check the experiment closely to see the results.

Future Home Managers Trained

EXAMINING THE EMBROIDERY on this dish towel are Diane Thomas, DeLois Droke and Nancy Wiggins. Home management instructs the girls in various home activities which include making and following a budget, selecting and arranging furniture, and managing the family security and welfare.

In Morton's home art classes, such as cooking, clothing, and home management, students learn the essentials of coping with household problems. Courses begin with elementary procedures and progress into more advanced phases of each specific art.

Sewing courses are offered to girls of all grade levels. The girls learn the basic fundamentals of this useful art and apply them to more complicated articles of clothing.

Budgeting and furniture arranging are only two of the many points of study in home management courses.

Cooking is not restricted to girls alone. Boys, too, dabble in the preparation of food.

Many students take these courses as electives to reap their benefits for future life.

BOYS' FOODS consists not only of cooking, but also of discussions and instructions in dating, home managing, and raising a family. "Two cooks are better than one." This is proved as Jim Ochiltree and Ron Paswinski place these biscuits in the oven.

LAYING OUT A PATTERN is one of the basic steps in creating a fashion. Mrs. Stier gives advice to Gwen Diehl, Pat Doolin, and Pam Drahos before Pam begins to work with her material.

Practical Arts Are Utilized

MINOR HOME ACCIDENTS can be treated by girls experienced in first aid. Andrea Manco, Kathy Horvat, Pat Relinski, and Sandy Buckner demonstrate the technique of weighing a baby and recording his weight.

Home nursing and mechanical drawing are the Practical Arts courses offered at Morton High School.

Mechanical drawing helps prepare boys for work in an industrial area. Scale drawings, lettering, and solving engineer problems are a few of the skills taught in this class.

Home nursing concentrates on first aid for minor home accidents and every day occurrences. This course gives the girls practice in caring for the sick and the injured. Girls learn basic fundamentals of how to care for the sick and also how to keep calm and what steps to take in an emergency.

VALUABLE TECHNIQUES are taught and learned in mechanical drawing. Solving this complicated engineering problem are Dick Brooke, Richard Kozdras, and Mr. Frank Concialdi.

Students Practice Useful Arts

Morton provides a liberal business course for the students who are planning to work after graduation or to further their education. General business, business law, bookkeeping, salesmanship, typing, shorthand, and clerical practice are the courses that are offered.

General business offers the students a complete explanation of further business courses. Business law defines the rights and obligations of all citizens in civic and business efforts. Bookkeeping explores vocational aptitudes for commercial occupations. Salesmanship is a course given to enable the students to do a better job of presenting themselves and their ideas. Personal typing is offered for those students not taking shorthand, while office typing is given to those who plan to use their skills in an office. The shorthand courses are aimed to develop the ability to take dictation at an advance rate of speed. Clerical practice is limited to those majoring in business.

THE ABILITY TO SELL PRODUCTS in the business world is studied and practiced in Mrs. Soderberg's salesmanship classes. Jim Pressnell puts his knowledge to use as he demonstrates this tape recorder to Gary Puette, who will be one of the consumers of tomorrow.

CLERICAL PRACTICE gives students experience with various business machines. The ability to operate these machines will be beneficial to future secretaries or for personal use. Judy Corterell is preoccupied with the long list of numbers she is totaling on the adding machine in the clerical practice room, one phase of the course.

FUTURE SECRETARIES learn their trade in the stenography class. One hour a day is spent working in the shorthand room, and another hour is spent practicing in the typing room. Employing the many different functions of a stenography class, which includes dictation and transcription, are Pam Gaughan, Carol Karnafel, Lois Casey, Nancy Woerner, and Sherry Pelhank.

Fine Arts Develop Talent

Learning from books isn't the only type of education needed to develop a balanced high school career. One of the essential parts required in balancing the education is artistic training. Experience is gained through various art classes, which are taught in the frame building. Girls' chorus and boys' chorus teach the students the fundamentals of singing and helps to develop their voices. Two semesters of chorus are required of those who show an interest in becoming choir members. The choir and the choruses present assemblies, concerts, and also sing for commencements.

Students use their musical abilities by serving and entertaining the school in assemblies, concerts, and at basketball and football games.

Although there is a separate language department, language may also be included in fine arts. Russian, the newest language at Morton, is an after-school class open to all high school students.

These classes teach artistic abilities and appreciation of the different types of arts.

MORTON HIGH'S QUARTET MEMBERS, Kay Hemingway, Diane Wieland, Ted Hupp, and H A Centry performed for the neighboring businessmen on the annual B.I.E. Day. They practiced their numbers during fourth hour when the choir met.

EXPRESSING ONE'S IDEA is accomplished through art and drawing. Marie Melton, Sally Clark, and Sharon Klaubo, under the supervision of Mr. Anthony Waring, are experimenting with manoprinting, a process of reproducing one picture from a single print.

Social Studies Bring Culture

THESE GEOGRAPHY STUDENTS, Kathi Nemeth, Frances Ecklund, and Danny Johnston, are concentrating on one of the troubled spots of the world as Mr. Robert Newkirk points to Laos, a small country in Asia Minor.

Social study courses are required of the high school students.

Geography, a freshman course, gives a complete description of all the countries, their people, and their ways of life. In the sophomore year World History gives students a background in all phases of historical significance. United States History introduces the juniors to their American heritage. Government and Economics prepare the seniors for their lives in the world of today and tomorrow. The purpose of United States and World Affairs is to broaden the students' knowledge of current world and United States events.

With this complete outlook of the present, past, and future happenings, the students are able to understand the world and its people.

ADVICE AND COUNSEL are being given by Mr. Keith McClellan to John May for a term paper in world history. Mr. McClellan also confers with all students concerning their six weeks' book reports.

MOCK CONGRESSES were held in Mr. Hays's Government classes. The students were formed into a senate, and all students participated. Allen Zwinklis was elected to the vice presidency, therefore holding the office of President of the Senate. Joe Harrison, Judy Villadsen, Bruce Siecker, and Bob Golec were executive officers. Bills were proposed; laws passed. Calling for a division of the house, Joe Harrison and Sharon Murchek rise to be recognized.

Weary Governors Tread Home

When 3:40 P.M. arrives the students dash through the halls collecting books, making plans for the evening, and trying to get a ride home. The halls empty fast, and soon all that can be viewed are dim, deserted halls.

Some students go home to eat, study, or watch television; others go to favorite meeting places where they can talk with their friends.

"HURRAH! It's 3:40 at last!" shouts Paul Stivers as he rushes out of his seventh hour class. This is not an unusual scene when the last bell brings an end to a busy and active school day.

AFTER THE LAST BELL RINGS, everyone seems to be in a hurry to meet with friends and gather for chats over cokes.

THE HALLS REFLECT emptiness and silence after all have left at the end of a typical, active school day.

Clubs

Morton Offers Variety of Clubs

The satisfaction of service, participating in worthwhile projects, experience in human relations, and a chance to meet new friends are but a few of the rewards gained by taking part in Morton's many clubs and organizations.

Morton's tradition of giving service to the community and developing the talents of the individual is carried out through these various organizations.

Activities provide creative outlets for students' abilities and leadership qualities. Both the students and the school gain when the Governors achieve recognition and honors through club work.

Academic clubs help students to further their interests and knowledge in the scholastic field.

Service club projects are important in teaching responsibility and concern for the welfare of others.

Participating in student government and school publications and assisting teachers are other ways students can do their part for the school.

Forming friendships, accepting responsibility, and serving the school are experiences gained through Morton's clubs.

Yearbook Staff Members Plan,

Deadlines to be met, advertising to be sold, and copy to be written were only a few duties done capably by the staff of the 1961 TOP HAT. Students worked many hours each day to produce an annual of which their classmates could be proud.

Under the supervision of Joe Harrison and Diane Kominiak, over $2,400 worth of advertising was sold, while homeroom representatives sold over 600 annuals to their fellow students.

During the year, trips sponsored by the TOP HAT were taken by many staff members. Rosanne Smith, Leonard Bissa and Allen Zwinklis attended a two-week summer course in Journalism at Indiana University. In the fall Rosanne and Allen along with Mrs. Stock flew to New York for a journalism conference at Columbia University to receive an award for the 1960 TOP HAT. There was also a journalism conference held at Franklin College.

BY SELLING ADVERTISING to local patrons, these students supplemented the cost of the TOP HAT: FRONT ROW: S. Chasteler, D. Milne; SECOND ROW: N. Hoffman, V. Getzlaff, D. Wieland, F. Torok, G. Diehl, S. Ferguson, S. Stone, L. Hedwall, S. Dorman; BACK ROW: J. Burdeau, M. Mestrovich, K. Miller, M. McNeil.

IN CHARGE OF SELLING advertising and balancing the books were business staff members D. Kominiak, S. Dorman, J. Harrison, and V. Rakos.

SELLING TOP HATS to their homeroom was the principal task of these students: BOTTOM ROW: K. Becky, J. Smith, G. Smith, R. Rosinski, J. Farster, N. McConnell; SECOND ROW: S. Dorman, S. Small Staff Serves School

TEAMWORK was the key as staff members worked to make the MORTONITE a success—STANDING: Sports Editor Dave Byrne, Assistant Editor Linda Austin, Sponsor Mrs. Helen Stock, Copy Editor Dianne Kingsbury,

BUSINESS STAFF members checking to see if enough advertising space has been sold to pay for a certain issue are—Del Shipley, Kim Miller, Tim Reid, Mark McNeil, Sandy Kessler, Ray Price.

This year a limited number of students worked together to produce the semi-monthly newspaper publication, the MORTONITE. Staff members worked daily writing, re-writing, and checking copy to meet their deadlines. A well-organized business staff sold ads to local patrons and to clubs sponsoring various activities throughout the year.

The MORTONITE gained distinction by being leaders in a drive over all of Hammond for the financing of an air-raid warning system by the city. MORTONITE editorials on the subject created such an impression that a local newspaper ran a series of articles relating to the system.

Present staff members campaigned, wore MORTONITES to school, and ran editorials in hope that a well-balanced staff would be prepared to take over the paper next year.

Students Maintain Law, Order

Monitors assumed the major role in maintaining law and order in the corridors before, during, and after school. Each hour of the school day eight monitors, under the leadership of a lieutenant, checked lockers, issued court notices, and inspected passes of students in the halls. This year white buttons with the word "monitor" printed on them were issued to all monitors.

In Concerts, Parades, Shows

High ranked in the state, the Morton band represented the school many times and in many ways. Even before school started the band was marching down Michigan Avenue in Chicago for the International Lions Club Parade. They also played at Riverview during the annual Mardi Gras.

When school begins, the musical notes may be heard throughout the school. During seventh hour the marching band practices for their half time performances at the football games. They also played at several of the school assemblies, including the Inauguration and the State of the Association address.

The officers of the band this year are Drum Manager John McAleer, Assistant Drum Manager Eddie Baker, and Concert Mistress Marie Melton. Mr. John Melton and Miss Glenda Benjamin are the directors of the Morton High School band.

Concerts and Music Assemblies

Music is expressed in many forms. At Morton High School many students have discovered music to be both fun and interesting as well as educational. Through the boys' and girls' choruses, the band, the orchestra, and the choir, students are able to display and express their musical talents.

Choir has attracted many fine singers into its ranks. A prerequisite to this interesting class is the newly instituted choruses. After two semesters in the chorus the vocalist is transferred to the choir where advanced music is studied and sung.

The choir, together with the chorus and the orchestra, presented two concerts this year. At Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter the choir, under the direction of Miss Miller, sang at assemblies, bring the holiday spirit to the student body.

Under the direction of Mr. Gregory, the orchestra blended its music to present two concerts. The talent of the orchestra members was displayed by playing music both humorous and sublime.

IN FORMALS AND DRESS SUITS these talented students of the Morton orchestra participated in concerts presented this year—

Association

Through the guidance of David Teegarden, President of the 1961 Morton Association, the student body became better acquainted with the ideas and organizations of the student government. Mimeographed copies of work done at all meetings of the Association were sent to each homeroom to be posted on the bulletin board. First hour each morning the President and his Cabinet met in the Student Center to discuss solutions to various problems confronting the school and the students.

The cabinet, too, is an important part in the student government. Under Richard Pollard, Sec. of Student Center, the Center continued to be a popular meeting place for students on their lunch hours and free periods. Balancing the books and keeping the Association out of debt was the tedious job of Mabel Carrico, Sec. of the Treasury. Sec. of Assemblies Joan Sherby scheduled varied and interesting assemblies each Friday morning which were presented to the student body. Cars driven to school had to be registered with Sec. of Safety George Berbeco. Clubs sponsoring social functions cleared the time and place with Sec. of Social Affairs Alice Takas. Under Chief Justice Steve Beison the Student Court enforced the laws of the school.

LEADING THE ASSOCIATION of Morton High School to a successful year were—Vice President Larry Overman, President David Teegarden, and Secretary Judy Bogan.

1961 CABINET MEMBERS who aided the president were—SITTING: Sec. of Treasury Mabel Carrico, Sec. of Assemblies Joan Sherby, Sec. of Social Affairs Alice Takas;

STANDING: Sec. of Student Center Rich Pollard, Sec. of Safety George Berbeco, Chief Justice Steve Beison.

Leads, Governs, Supervises

Six deputies were added to the student court system of Morton High School this year to help enforce the penalties given by the four judges—one from each class. The penalties consist of doing odd jobs around the school. These might be picking up papers in the halls and on the grounds, washing windows, raking leaves or dusting banisters. The Court this year, under Chief Justice Steve Beison, served the school well.

IMPORTANT LEGISLATION was passed by the 1961 Senate—Pres. Larry Overman, David Byrne, Jack Overman, Bruce Byrne, Phil Schreiber, Dana Stewart, Bill Banas, Terry Collins.

The Student Association is one of the most important organizations at Morton since it deals with so many school functions and involves a great number of students. The Congress, consisting of house members from each homeroom and senators from each class, plans, proposes, and passes many laws governing the students. Through their representatives, students not in the Association are able to voice their opinions and present ideas which may benefit the school.

1961 MEMBERS of the Morton House of Representatives are—BOTTOM ROW: J. Sheridan, B. Hunziker, C. Williams, B. Mitchell, B. Topp, R. Reba, P. Lewin; SECOND ROW: F. Klem, J. Shaw, G. Eichelberger, B. Cernevski, S. Connors, P. Evans, N. Holley; THIRD ROW: L. Heacox, G. Dietrich, P. Hanson, B. Gregory, K. Miller, P. Stivers, C. Gholson; FOURTH ROW: M. Thegze, M. Debaters Are State Champions

Forensics played a great part in increasing Morton's "sphere of influence" this year. Not only did MHS debaters defeat the team from Evergreen Park on the television program "Rebuttal," but they also won first in the state at the National Forensic League Contest at Lafayette and will represent Indiana at the University of Pittsburg this summer for the national finals.

The aim of the Forensic Club is to present opportunities for students to participate in speech activities, to develop a greater degree of skill in oral communications and to promote participation in various speech contests. Under the guidance of Ellis Hays, coach, members were able to develop the talents they possess to further their public speaking ability.

THE NATIONAL FORENSIC LEAGUE is an honorary organization, and these students worked hard to gain NFL points to become eligible for membership—BOTTOM ROW: Sponsor E. Hays, R. Smith, V. Getzlaff, P. Stivers, Sponsors Mrs. M. Levine, L. Ruff;

SECOND ROW: S. Lewin, K. Miller, C. Reichardt, M. Boardman, D. Bell, S. Walsh, P. Smock, L. Nolan, J. Harrison; THIRD ROW: G. Werskey, B. Gregory, A. Zwinklis, E. Baker, C. Carter, J. Goudge, M. Walsh, T. Reid, V. Rakos, K. Thompson.

Speech Activities Gain Prestige

FORENSIC CLUB MEMBERS in speech activities are—

Students Specialize in Science

Phy-Chem Club

Phy-Chem Club attempts to acquaint its members with both the interesting as well as the educational sides of physics and chemistry. Each year an assembly on science is held showing the different and unusual experiments performed in the laboratory. Phy-Chem also sponsors the Science Fair in which students interested in physics, chemistry and biology enter their own project, in hope of winning and going on to regional, state, and the national level of competition.

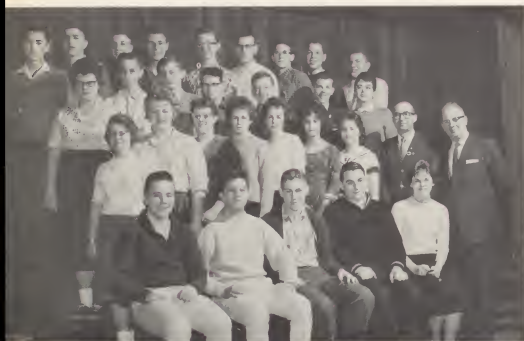

PHYSICS AND CHEMISTRY create a challenge to these Phy-Chem Club members who experiment with projects—BOTTOM ROW: Sponsor Mr. W. Came, Vice Pres. Leonard Bissa, Sec.-Treas.

Mary Gay Matovina, M. Pilot, Sponsor Mrs. M. Petterson; SECOND ROW: B. Hohalek, C. Lenzo, C. Kamatel, D. Meeker; THIRD ROW: D. Oberle, J. Mixon, T. Hoffman.

Biology Club

Promoting interest in the natural science of biology and encouraging students to enter into the scientific fields are the main goals of the Biology Club. Each year students of the club enter into the Science Fair, hoping to win city, regional and state awards.

With each unusual project it undertakes, the club becomes better known. Besides the unusual dances which they claim that "no one even dares to copy," they have an annual skating party and several field trips to local museums and parks.

DISCOVERING THE DIFFERENT FIELDS of biology are—BOTTOM ROW: Pres. B. Siecker, Vice Pres. B. Golec, Treas. J. Cook, Senior Advisors J. Hopp, L. Austin; SECOND ROW: J. Williams, J. Cole, D. Kingsbury, G. Stricklin, B. Topp, C. Mitchell, P. Phelps, Sponsors Mr. G. Spitzzer, Mr. J. Rasmussen; THIRD ROW: M. Mayden, S. Vargo, L. Sutton, D. Biro, R. Weber, B. Byrne, C. Peplea; TOP ROW: E. Utus, D. Lambart, D. Wiese, J. Cyganowicz, R. Hawkins, J. Stahura, K. Marcinkovich, C. Bothwell, and R. Price.

Photo Club

Besides taking pictures for the TOP HAT and the MORTONITE, the Photo Club also provides pictures for the HESS-VILLITE. At almost every school activity one will find a junior photographer taking pictures for the different publications. Although this job is enjoyed by the student it also instructs them in a skill which they may find useful in life.

Cinema Club

Members of the Cinema Club serve both the school and the students. Movies and movie equipment are provided for by this club and are operated by the members. These members also set up all microphone equipment in the auditorium for assemblies and provide the recording system for music at the numerous school dances.

WORKING IN THE AV ROOM these students learn an interesting hobby—BOTTOM ROW: Sponsor Mr. Gibson, Pres. D. Janeczko, G. Schlesinger, D. Davis, L. Swope, Vice Pres. K. Camperman, Sec. D. Benkovich; SECOND ROW: B. Ridge, R. Dukes, R. Callison, J. Bewley, D. Thompson, J. Moe-glin, K. Smith, C. Bridges, R. Bromels, R. Chancellor, A. Brosman; TOP ROW: J. Buj-wit, T. Hoffman, P. Hill, J. Bishop, J. Spray, R. Love, K. Murton, D. Turner, R. Stafford, D. Dedelow, D. Smaron.

Students Prepare For Careers

Future Nurses Club

Being granted a national charter is the hope of the members of the Future Nurses Club. Working towards this goal the girls sponsored various projects during the year. Christmas presents were given to Beatty Memorial Hospital with the profit made from an apple sale in school. During the year various trips are made to hospitals to acquaint the girls with the duties nurses perform.

Future Teachers Of America

Under the sponsorship of Miss Louise Williams and Mrs. Margaret Walker the F. T. A. acquaints future instructors with the various fields of teaching and gives some practical experience in teaching at various grade levels.

Scholarships for all graduating seniors who plan to teach are given by the club. Money for these grants was raised by bake sales and the annual faculty basketball game.

Girls Prepare For Home Life

LEARNING THE VARIOUS PHASES of Home Economics are—SITTING: Vice Pres. Catherine Davich, Pres. Donna Tomich, Sponsor Mrs. E. Stier; STANDING: J. Hudzig, J. Ruble, J. Skurka, B. Westerlund, I. Smith, Treas. Karen Winders.

Home Ec Club

Acquainting its members with various aspects of home economics and encouraging them to major in it as a career are the major purposes of the Home Ec Club. Sewing, cooking and home management are a few of the subjects explored during club activities period.

Extending help to needy organizations was carried on by members of the club. This year gifts to retarded children was the Home Ec. Club's main project.

Girls' Club

Girls' Club members better themselves by learning and acquiring a use of the best social graces. Programs of interest are given each club period to present the girls with the correct phases of grooming and manners.

Charitable work is also a major objective of the Morton Girls' Club. This year they presented four dictionaries to Hoosier Boys' Town for use in their library.

BETTERING THEIR COMMUNITY are — BOTTOM ROW: Pres. Marianne Zych, Vice Pres. Joyce Coleman, Treas. Pat Japkowski, Sgt.-at-Arms Jeri Smalley; SECOND ROW: J. White, C. Mericle, J. Wilson, D. Morton's chapter of the Y-Teens, affiliated with the Hammond Y.W.C.A. is separated into a junior and a senior division, both working for the same goals. Y-Teens work with projects benefiting the community. This year they gave financial aid to the Bethany Home and the Brooks House. Money was raised by the

Y-Teens in their annual potato chip sale. Last year hundreds of bags of potato chips were sold to finance their projects.

Good times and social development are available to all members. Each year a social night slumber party is held at the downtown Y. W. C. A. with all the Y-Teens clubs of Hammond attending.

Junior Y-Teens

BECOMING BETTER CITIZENS are—BOTTOM ROW: Sponsor Miss M. Hanlon, Pres. Judy Mestrovich, Vice Pres. Linda Hamill, Sec. Beryl Frye, Treas. Liz Gardner; SECOND ROW: N. Ochiltree, S. Halloway, P. Students Strive To Help People

Hi-Y

This year the Hi-Y sponsored the first annual "Mr. Ugly" dance, and the club nominated six candidates. Votes were cast by the student body in the form of pennies. Rich Gardner collected the greatest number of votes and reigned as "Mr. Ugly." The proceeds from the dance were used to fill Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets for needy families.

PARTICIPATING IN HI-Y projects are—BOTTOM ROW: Sgt. at Arms Jim Beltriger, Vice pres. Jerry Huittler, Pres. Rich Gardner, Treas. Dennis Brant, Sec. Tom Kolish, Sec. David Holmes; SECOND ROW: Sponsor Mr. R. Newkirk, D. Furuness, M. Walsh, G. Tomsic, J. Skelton, J. Sako, D. Weiss, E. Camp, Sponsor Mr. G. Kurteff; THIRD

Selling stationery, thank you notes, and napkins were the money-making projects of the Junior Red Cross this year. Various ways were found for helping others with the money collected. At Halloween children at the Bethany Home were treated to a party. Donations were also collected for the Christmas Cheer Fund from which the club supplied gifts for underprivileged children. Other projects included making stuffed animals for hospitals and participating in the overseas gift basket program.

Trips Enlighten These Students

Travel Club

During meetings of the Travel Club members take imaginary trips around the world. Stimulating and maintaining the interest in travel are achieved through the media of movies, slides, pamphlets, and talks by various speakers. In the early spring the members visit a national park or historical area in Indiana.

This year an executive board consisting of Lee Hankins, Ken Hyde, Mike Konyu, Bob LaBelle, Bonnie Knight, and Nancy Canady has been added to the organization. They meet on alternate Tuesdays to plan and prepare the future club meeting with the aid of the faculty advisors.

"Different and exciting" describe this year's annual Historical Club trip. Instead of the usual bus trip through Indiana the members boarded a train bound for southern Illinois where they toured Abe Lincoln's home in Salem. Many other historical sights were also visited on this one day excursion.

Chocolate candy bars were sold by members and dances were held to help finance the trip. After all bills were paid, the balance of the money was given to the Social Studies department for use there.

HISTORICAL CLUB OFFICERS for 1960-61 are the three Sgt.-at-Arms: Ted Hupp, George Rivich, Duane Hicks; Treas. Dave Teegarden; Sec. Karen Clark; Vice Pres. Ed Norris; Pres. Dick Weiss.

Stage Crew

Behind the scenes work involving the plays is the responsibility of the stage crew. Scenery, lighting, and props are all provided by the club. All members work on the productions. A point system has been set up for work done in the club whereby a member is given recognition as an outstanding member after he has earned the required number.

Students Develop Into Actors

Theater Guild

An appreciation and understanding of drama and the theater is gained by students through the Theater Guild. Besides participating in both the Fall Play and the Senior Play, students may also help, direct, and organize the cast. In this way members aspiring to become actresses, actors, producers and directors gain valuable, practical experience.

FUTURE ACTORS AND Actresses are—BOTTOM ROW: Sponsor Mrs. M. Dean, J. Kitchen, C. Winsberg, M. Thegze; SECOND ROW: C. Ware, P. Dodd, R. Sheldon, J. Wilson, B. Naftzger, J. Finley; BACK ROW: J. White, S. George, C. Grubbs, B. Bogan, G. Miller, J. Sciotta.

Students Explore

Chess Club

Members of the Chess Club are able to achieve a worthy leisure-time activity while enjoying themselves at the same time. Its weekly meeting is held in the Student Center because it provides a quiet and pleasant atmosphere which is necessary for the playing of a thoughtful game of chess. Each Tuesday members match their wits and brains in trying to outplay their opponents by various challenging moves. Tournaments are conducted at the end of each semester, and a champion chess player is decided.

Math Club

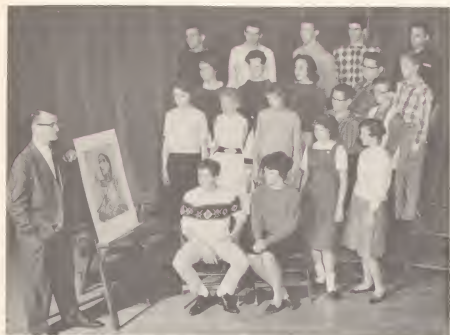

Math Club provides students who are interested in math with a wider background by delving deeper into the special problems of math. Slide rule, logarithms and the theory of probabilities were a few of the problems studied this year. Math Club broadens the students' knowledge of mathematics which he will be able to use in his classes.

Honor at Morton is achieved through its outstanding honorary organization. Leadership, service, character, and scholarship are all attributes of the students aspiring for candidacy to one of these clubs.

Morton's chapter of the National Honor Society maintains its high standards and high esteem by bringing into its ranks the outstanding individuals of the junior and senior classes. An A or B average must have been kept for four consecutive grading periods before students may be considered for membership. Individuals are then voted on by the faculty who decide whether the student eligible for the NHS has shown good leadership, to Morton High School.

Outstanding journalists working on the TOP HAT or the MORTONITE and in the upper third of their class are eligible for membership in the NATIONAL QUILL and SCROLL.

M-Club promotes character among the letterman. By insisting on high standards and ideals the M-Club has gained much recognition at MHS. They also promote fair play and sportsmanship in the entire school.

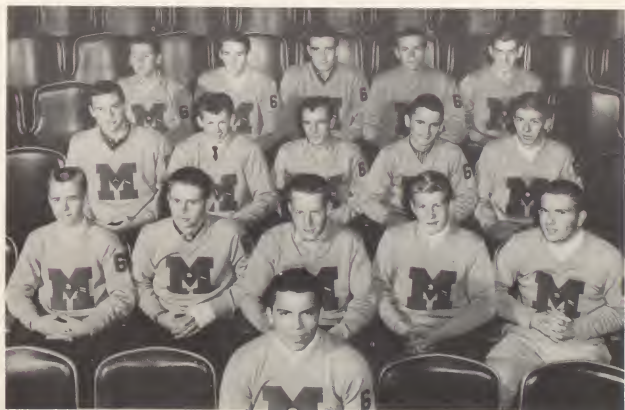

NEW MEMBERS of the National Honor Society initiated in May were—FIRST ROW: D. Brandt, L. Barnett, S. Davis, B. Gregory, D. Chesney, B. Banas; SECOND ROW: D. Weedon, J. Kors, P. Smock, C. GAINING EXPERIENCE by working in the office are—F. Klem, C. Bobowski, L. Daniel, S. Reid, M. Roach, P. Smock, S. Pop, P. Evans, B. Cernevski, S. Watson, S. Pelhank.

An efficient and important division of the entire working system at Morton is the participation of the students in aiding teachers.

All business centers itself in our office where girls help issue tardy slips, pick up attendance sheets, run the mimeographing machine, and aid persons wishing information.

Gaining experience as well as helping others are the clinic workers, who serve as the aids of the school nurse, Miss Gibson. The majority of the attendants wish to join the Future Nurses Club for more experience.

Behind-the-counter experience is gained by bookstore helpers. Folders, pencils, paper, rulers, and many other materials needed by students for school work are sold here.

Students who are unable to locate a book in the library may request the aid of a library assistant. These junior librarians gain valuable experience by working with Mr. Elgas, chief librarian.

Cafeteria helpers work during their lunch hours aiding the cafeteria staff. Their job is to sell sandwiches, milk, and potato chips to those student not buying hot lunches.

Clinic Workers

AIDING IN THE CLINIC are—Miss L. Gibson, school nurse, D. Tomich, T. Chansler, L. Davis, T. Rogowski, D. Droke, C. Clark, V. George.

Sports

MHS Has Sports For All Students

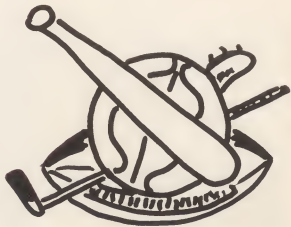

Sports are important, not only as physical training, but also to improve the mind, instill a feeling of competition, and promote good sportsmanship.

Students participating in Morton's many sports find enjoyment, learn skills, and meet new friends. The spirit and the ability employed by those in Morton's sports have truly earned for MHS students the title of the "Mighty Governors."

Eleven athletes drive down the field, never stopping until they reach their ultimate goal—a touchdown. A fast break finds five Governors moving swiftly down the floor to score. A wrestler reverses a hold and gains points that lead to a victory. From short to second to first, and it's a game-ending double play. This action is symbolic of the fine play of the Governor athletes. The fierce competition displayed by the Governors leads to victory for Morton's athletic teams.

In the background, at the sporting events, the enthusiastic cheers of the Morton boosters supporting their team on to victory can be heard.

Whether one wants to be a participant or a viewer, Morton has sporting events to meet the interest of everyone.

HOLD THAT TIGER! Dick Weiss seems to be doing just that as Ted White rushes in to assist. The Tech Tigers were unable to score against Morton's strong defensive crew.

The Morton Governors, spirited football team fought its way to a successful season, finishing with a 5-3 record. The Governors won their first two games from city rivals Clark and Tech by decisive scores of 19-0 and 34-0. In a victorious homecoming game against Fort Wayne South, the Governors dumped the Archers, 33-6. The MHS gridgers made it 4-0 by defeating the Whiting Oilers, 25-12. The first downfall of the season occurred when Bishop Noll defeated Morton, 14-6. The Governors were downed by the Riders of East Chicago Roosevelt, 47-26, for a second straight loss. Breaking the losing streak, the team downed the Renesselaer Bombers 37-6. The Governors concluded the '60 season with a heart-breaking loss to high-ranking Hammond High, by one point, 7-6.

Rich Gardner, center and linebacker, was elected captain of the team. Dick Weiss, hard-driving fullback and defensive halfback, was chosen the team's most valuable player.

THE MIGHTY GOVERNORS fight for the ball as a Tech fumble is made on the play. The scoreless Tigers had a difficult time gaining yardage against the rugged Governor crew. Morton went on to beat Hammond Tech by a decisive score of 34-0, thus winning the first two games of the football season.

Provide Thrills

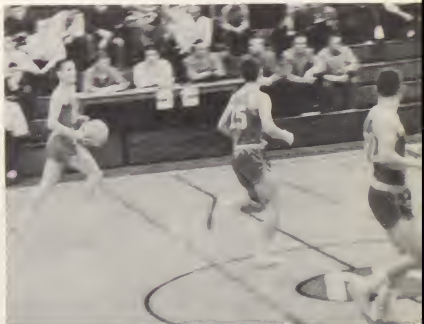

WAITING IMPATIENTLY for a possible rebound, Jim Palmer, Ron Royer, and Dennis Musgrave work for a better position underneath the basket. The Bishop Noll Warriors edged the Governors in this hard-fought battle, 55-52.

Despite a handicap in height, the Governors fought to a successful season. The Morton varsity basketball team showed their ability and versatility in the Clark-Morton sectional game. Although losing the game 27-26, outstanding strategy and excellent play made the Governors and their stalling tactics well known in the East Chicago sectional.

Gallant efforts, fighting team spirit, and sportsmanship throughout the season provided thrills for MHS fans. Leading scores in points-per-game average were Ron Bocken with 13.9 and Ron Royer with 12.8 points. The team ended the season with 7 wins and 14 losses.

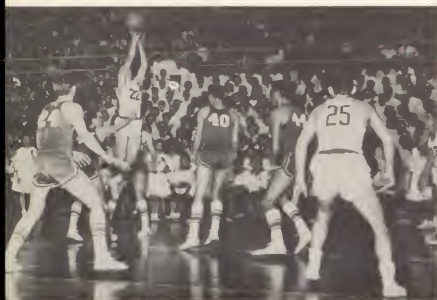

JIM PERDEW, Most Valuable Player for the Governors' varsity basketball team, drives in for a layup and two points as Jim Palmer watches the goal.

MAKING THEIR WAY down the court, Dennis Palmer (25) and Ron Royer (22) receive instructions from teammate Ron Bocken, floor leader and captain. Teamwork by the Governors was an important factor in the fine play displayed by the MHS basketball team.

Stall Tactics Bring Excitement

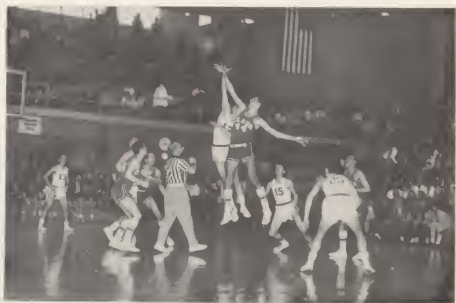

ALL EYES ARE ON GOVERNOR Ron Royer as the ball leaves his hands. Clark Pioneers surround the Morton shooter while the rest of the Governors close in on the basket for a possible rebound.

BOB GUZEK TAKES ADVANTAGE of his position for a shot as a Hammond High Wildcat and Governor Ron Royer close in on the play. The Wildcats overtook Morton 70-52 in a series of fast moving plays.

HEAVY WILDCAT GUARDING does not affect Ron Royer. A Hammond High player unsuccessfully attempts to block the shot of the sharp-shooting Governor, who scores on the shot.

JIM PERDEU STRAINS to outjump a tall Pioneer as teammates wait for the outcome. Morton was eliminated from the Sectionals by Clark with the close score of 27-26. Stalling tactics of the Governors almost led to a victory.

DENNIS BRANT GRAPPLES with a T.F. South wrestler and attempts to get a secure hold on him and obtain a takedown. Dennis placed second in his weight class in the state tournament.

FRANK WHITE ATTEMPTS to take down his opponent to gain extra points for Morton.

Three years ago a wrestling team was organized at Morton High School. Since then, there have been major improvements. This year, the Governor matmen, under the direction of Coach Bob Gollner, brought forth a 12-2 record. The Governor squad opened the season by defeating Highland. Although they lost their next match to Gary Roosevelt, they won two straight. After receiving their second setback, this time at the hands of Crown Point, the grapplers won the nine remaining matches. Lester Barno, Dennis Brant, and Joe Marton participated in the regionals and from this trio, Brant took first place in the regional contest and placed second, in his weight class, in the state tournament. He was also chosen the most valuable wrestler. Les Barno was elected captain and Ed Norris co-captain of the wrestling squad by their teammates.

JAY HEMINGWAY HAS the advantage as he maneuvers his Bishop Noll opponent into position for a pin. The Governors closed the '61 season by defeating the Noll Warriors by a score of 40-8.

Girls Participate In Sports

G.A.A. MEMBERS are—TOP ROW: C. Shannon, B. Stryzinski, K. Macey, M. Ganchiff, G. Bishop, S. Wahl; SECOND ROW: B. Marlow, B. Belaskas, B. Bicanic, B. Francis, L. Gilson; THIRD ROW: A. Dixon, J. Gault, E. Pittman, D. Bianucci; BOTTOM ROW: Mrs. Diane Payne, sponsor, Vice Pres. S. Kessler, Sec. J. Fines, Treas. N. Wiggins.

The Morton Chapter of the Girls Athletic Association, a state organization, organizes competitive sports for all girls interested in joining. Mrs. Diane Payne, the club's sponsor, aids the girls in reaching various goals such as exchanging ideas, participating in sporting activities, experiencing leadership responsibilities, and developing sportsmanship. All of the girls strive to attain the required number of points to receive awards during their senior year. The club also sponsors the Girls' Homeroom Basketball Tournament in which all homerooms participate.

DURING THE HOMEROOM TOURNAMENT, Marilyn Mestrovich moves past opponents Barbara Lubarski and Natalie Holley as she dribbles toward the basket.

GRITTING HER TEETH, Diane Weedon struggles for the ball with Betty Rosarwank. Gail Schlesinger charges in to aid her teammate while a floored observer looks on helplessly.

Cindermen Display Endurance

UP AND OVER! Sophomore Larry Kerr leaves room to spare as he clears the crossbar in a display of pole vaulting.

DETERMINATION SHOWS in the face of John May as he receives the baton from Mike Bradburn in a relay race. Stamina and endurance are two essential traits of this sport.

Governor Nine

STEVE PAQUIN, center-fielder, carefully watches the pitched ball so that he will be ready to move on the play and field any balls that are hit to him.

SECOND BASEMAN DON BELL waits cautiously for the pitch while his teammates look on. Don was one of Morton's "Mighty Mites" this year as the Governors played to a successful season.

With the coming of spring, thoughts turn to baseball, and this is true at Morton. At this time the baseballs, bats, and gloves are taken out of storage, and the baseball season gets under way.

The Governors were led by the strong left arm of Bob Guzek, sophomore fastballer, and by Steve Paquin, senior center-fielder, with a .425 batting average.

This year, the Governor hardballers, under the coaching of Jack Georgas, had an excellent season. Scoring as many as fifteen runs a game and no-hit pitching by the Governors proved Morton to be one of the outstanding baseball teams in this area.

LEFT-FIELDER Ted Hupp executes a perfect slide as he scores one of the Governor tallies in the 15-2 victory over Highland. Jim Palmer, the next Morton batter, hurries over to congratulate the MHS slugger.

Have Outstanding 1961 Season

LOW GOLFER for the Governors, Jim Hiduke, shows Dennis Zallen, a substitute golfer, a putting grip, while practicing at Lake Hills Golf Course. Interested spectators, Dave Chesney and Bill Anderson, look on at the Governor golfers.

LOOKING AT THE TOP HAT that they will soon be wearing are the Cadets—Sherry Shadoan, Darliss Frye, Barbara Seaman, and Sharon Detvay.

MARIE MELTON AND DIANE MILNE, Morton's feature twirlers, demonstrate a twirling exhibition in an exciting performance.

Twirlers Provide Entertainment

Adding high stepping highlights to all of the football games are the majorettes and cadets. They have contributed beauty and precision to the halftime festivities as well as to numerous other shows given by M.H.S. This year, the twirlers performed at the basketball games for the first time. Both groups are instructed by Mrs. L. Melton every day after school. Marie Melton and Diane Milne, feature twirlers, led the formations. The Morton twirlers participated in a number of local and state contests this year.

Everyone Can Find Friends At MHS

Morton's most important asset is people—students, teachers, administrators. Students in the halls laugh and exchange greetings. Serious faces in a classroom study the world's past or the nation's future. Eager fans cheer the team to victory. Students take part in school activities, meet friends, and bring honors to the school everyday. The faculty does their part by preparing students for the future.

The friendly relationship formed with teachers and fellow students are the truly important things gained from high school. Students make friends with whom they participate in the same activities, attend the same events, and work in the same classes.

Morton's greatest pride is its students. The memories of scholastic achievement, athletic prowess, and honors and awards will linger on, but Morton will be best remembered—not for the debate tourney, nor the band contest, nor the football games—but for the "Mighty Governors" who were responsible for Morton's achievements. Many things about high school may be forgotten, but friendships and personalities are the qualities which remain.

GIRLS' STATE REPRESENTATIVES: Kay Hemingway, Caroline Reichardt, Judy Howard.

D.A.R. AWARD WINNER: Judy Bogan.

DELEGATE TO THE UNITED NATIONS: Jerry Hutsler.

Students Receive

Morton students work for excellence in all that they attempt and, achieving their goals, receive many honors and awards.

Each year outstanding juniors are selected by the faculty to attend Boys' and Girls' State. For one week delegates learn about government activities and affairs by participation in a mock state. Students run for offices and govern themselves.

A junior also is selected to be the Morton delegate to the United Nations. On this trip, the delegate learns the functions of the U.N. and is able to view the many famous sites of New York.

A great knowledge of government and history is the major qualification necessary for candidates for the D.A.R. Award.

BOYS' STATE REPRESENTATIVES: Terry Collins, Paul Stivers, Eddie Baker, Byron Gregory.

MERIT SCHOLARSHIP FINALIST: David Teegarden.

T.V. DEBATERS: Linda Nolan, moderator; Paul Stivers and Gary Werskey, participants.

Honors, Awards

Competition is stiff for those students who take the National Merit Scholarship Test. Those scoring in the ninety-nine percentile become finalists.

Team participants in each sport select one of their teammates as the most valuable player, on the basis of ability, sportsmanship, and team contribution.

This year two Morton students participated on "Rebuttal," a televised debate program in Chicago. Another student told the viewing audience about MHS.

Two seniors who rank one and two in their class are named Valedictorian and Salutatorian, respectively.

Through these activities students bring honor to themselves and to Morton.

TOP SENIOR SCHOLARS: Alan Smulevitz, valedictorian; Cathy Cutler, salutatorian.

MOST VALUABLE PLAYERS: John Bailor, cross-country; Jim Perdew, basketball; Dick Weiss, football; Dennis Brant, wrestling.

Seniors Recall Events of Past

This year climaxed the events of each senior's high school career. For the 259 students of the graduating class it was a year filled with innumerable experiences.

The class of 1961 began planning their activities soon after school began. Wearing their senior cords was a tradition they enjoyed.

The Winter Formal was the first big social event of the year organized by the seniors. The senior class administered the adoption of a Korean war orphan by the entire student body. The Has-Been Will-Be basketball game between the seniors and the underclassmen was another traditional event. The seniors looked forward to the Senior Play and Senior Banquet in the spring and Senior Week in their last week of high school.

LEADING THE GRADUATING CLASS of 1961 were—Rayleen Shanta, Vice President; Sharon Murchek, Secretary-Treasurer; and Dennis Brant, President.

Senior Board Plans Activities

HARD WORK WAS DISPLAYED by these executive board members—BACK ROW: Sponsor G. Spitzer, D. Thomas D. Stewart, S. Farley, C. Viland, J. Sherby;

BOB HOLLOWAY poses eagerly for the measurement of his gown.

Members of the Senior Executive Board combined their efforts in planning the senior activities. The members of the board were chosen by their homerooms and were assisted by the senior class officers and the class sponsors, Gerald Spitzer and Nancy Squibb.

During the course of nine months the board planned the Winter Formal, the Senior Banquet, and Senior Week.

Various members assisted with other activities of importance to the senior class, such as the measuring of caps and gowns. Some seniors were assigned to keep order throughout the measuring process. Others assisted the representatives from the E.R. Moore Company in copying measurements on individual cards.

Seniors Realize End Is Near

DEEP IN THOUGHT and down in heart, this reminiscing senior recalls the memorable events of his high school years. The final round of open houses, senior parties, and school activities as well as cramming for final exams has been too much for George Rivich. He pauses to rest and reflect about the past and the future before the important final event of his high school career, graduation exercises. He and his classmates soon must leave MHS.

Juniors Anticipate Final Year

THE JUNIOR CLASS selected Kay Hemingway as Secretary-Treasurer and Jerry Hut-sler as President, who, along with Paul Stivers, Vice-president, (not shown in the photograph) led the juniors in all of their projects.

The main project of the junior class, the 1961 Prom, was financed by the sale of ribbon and cookies. Helping with the projects were class sponsors Mrs. Soderberg and Mr. Alexander.

Members of the future graduating class of 1962 have but one year left to prepare for college or future vocations. They have spent three years setting up ideals to follow and preparing themselves to accept the responsibilities that are required of seniors.

Sophomores Obtain Confidence

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS chose Secretary-Treasurer Flo Klem, Vice-president Jerry Sako, and President Tom Phares to manage the activities of their class this year. These students have the responsibility of leading the class.

Sophomores enjoy their new status, since they are no longer looked down upon as green and inexperienced.

Following goals set down in the previous year they prepare for the responsibilities to be laid upon their shoulders in their junior year.

Having the experience of their freshman year, sophomores are prepared to plan for the future.

Freshmen Face New Challenges

DISCUSSING THE PROBLEMS which they face as Frosh officers are Helen Holsclaw, Secretary-Treasurer; Larry Lessie, President; and Ron Lohse, Vice-president.

Freshmen enter a whole new life when they enter high school. They go to various social gatherings and attend athletic events, thereby becoming acquainted with their new school and fellow classmates.

Soon after arriving at Morton the freshmen begin conferring with their class counselors who guide them toward future achievements at M.H.S.

Students rapidly become orientated to their new surroundings at the school and find Morton a "second home."

Administration Guides Students

The members of the Morton High School faculty believe that it is their purpose and responsibility to develop a sense of good citizenship so that each student may assume an intelligent and commendable place in our democratic society, to help each student make any necessary social or physical adjustments, to provide a curriculum which will meet the needs of the student body in life situations.

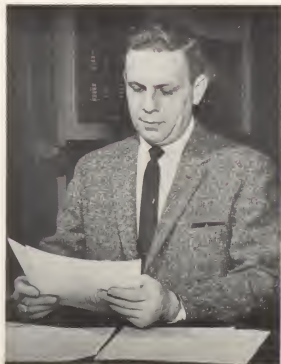

To accommodate the less gifted students, the faculty members are constantly broadening the curriculum, rather than lowering the standards.

The administration and faculty hope to attain these goals through proper guidance, counseling, discipline, and academic instruction.

MR. A. W. CLARK, principal since 1942, has shown his devotion to youth and its interests through his participation in community, school, and church activities. Morton students can always remember Mr. Clark as a sympathetic and warmhearted person.

Mr. Clark received his B.S. degree from Central Normal College and his M.S. from Butler University.

MR. W. WINSTON BECKER, administrative assistant, has countless duties on his daily agenda. He plans the school program schedule, compiles attendance records, and acts as the school disciplinarian. Mr. Becker can always be trusted to give fair and impartial decisions. Mr. Becker received his B.A. degree from Huntington College and his M.A. from Indiana University.

WORKING FOR HIGHER STANDARDS of education in the Hammond school system are the members of the school board and the city school administration. The board meets twice each month to conduct business—BACK ROW: Mr. D. Gavit, Mr. E. Wiley, Mr. C. Smith, and Mr. C. Schoner; FRONT ROW: Dr. H. Eggers, Mrs. M. Allen, Mr. R. B. Miller, Superintendent of Schools, and Mr. C. Scott.

Staff Work Shows Efficiency

Office Staff

KEEPING THE SCHOOL office in perfect running order are: Mrs. I. Payne, Mrs. B. Stryzinski, and Mrs. G. Reynolds.

Always prepared to give prompt, efficient service to students, faculty, and administration are the members of the Morton office staff. Because of their efforts the office is kept in smooth running order.

The cafeteria staff provides an opportunity for students and faculty to obtain well-balanced lunches. A varied menu is displayed daily as meals are served third, fourth, and fifth hours in the cafeteria.

Cafeteria Staff

PAUSING A MOMENT during their work are the members of the cafeteria staff: Mrs. L. Garson, Mrs. M. Constant, Mrs. M. Greatrix, Mrs. M. Shadoan, Mrs. R. Chambers, and Mrs. C. Marion.

Patrons

Advertising Aids Students, Patrons

Bringing the community into the school activities through advertising is important in many ways. A good relationship between the school and the community is necessary for better schools, more school spirit, and a better community.

Many school activities, projects, and publications receive the support and backing of the community. Often financial aid is necessary, so these publications solicit advertising from merchants.

The exchange that advertising creates between the school and the community benefits both.

Advertising helps Morton students to form buying habits and build good will for the buyers of tomorrow. It also develops responsibility and good business habits.

The interest of patrons is also an important element in this relationship. Advertising in student publications is profitable for the merchants because of the increased purchasing power of adolescents.

Advertising has established the tradition that has developed at Morton of students taking an interest in the community. Advertising benefits everyone involved—patrons, students, and the community.

what's their future

The young people you see in these pictures are all on their way to successful careers in one of America's basic industries . . . steel. They decided (as we hope you will decide) to let Inland Steel Company help them plan their future.

Some are gaining knowledge and experience in special trades to become journeyman machinists, carpenters or electricians . . . some are concentrating on certain phases of steelmaking by working in the open hearth shops, the cold rolling mills or the galvanizing lines. Still others are working in laboratories building a sound foundation for a future in steel research.

Inland offers the high school graduate an excellent opportunity to further his education. Employees may participate in a variety of on-the-job training programs, or they can continue their formal education by registering for evening courses offered by local Purdue and Indiana University Extension Centers.

Plan now to investigate the unlimited opportunities for you in steel . . . with the midwest's own steel company . . . INLAND STEEL.

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased from 10.5 million to 13.5 million, and the number of people aged 75 and over from 4.5 million to 6.5 million (Office of National Statistics 2000).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of older people in the community. The Department of Health (1999) has published a strategy for older people, which sets out the government's commitment to older people and the actions that will be taken to improve their lives. The strategy is based on the principle that older people should be able to live independently, safely and comfortably, and to participate fully in the community. The strategy sets out a range of actions that will be taken to improve the lives of older people, including: improving the quality of care and support for older people; improving the housing and living conditions of older people; improving the transport and accessibility of the community; and improving the health and social services available to older people.

The strategy also sets out a range of actions that will be taken to improve the lives of older people in the community, including: improving the quality of care and support for older people; improving the housing and living conditions of older people; improving the transport and accessibility of the community; and improving the health and social services available to older people.
